

Ladies and Genlemen,
Dear members of Ordo socialis,

Juni 2013

Half a year has already gone and we contact you with news of Ordo socialis !

Those who have visited us last time under www.ordosocialis.de could have stated: The website has been enlarged by the new column "Publications/Topics". Here all publications are listed in the following 8 key-topics:

- 1. Christian social teaching – fundamental social and ethical issues
- 2. Economic, financial and social order – ethics in the worlds of business and finance
- 3. Poverty and wealth – solidarity and shared responsibility
- 4. Politics, human rights, democracy – ethics in politics
- 5. The global world and social justice – ethics of development, order and peace
- 6. Religion, politics and peace – interreligious peace ethics and social ethics
- 7. Family, education and knowledge – ethics of different forms of family life
- 8. Environment and technology – ethics of survival and progress

As in the past you will find all available publications under "publication/authors" in alphabetic order of authors. New publications are listed under "News". The web-statistics show a good development of the number of visitors of our website. Obviously the cost and the efforts of the new shaping were rewarded. With the old website we had in 2010 until the shaping end of November 8.378 visitors. The number of visitors then rose steadily: Nov. 2011: 13.870, Nov. 2012: 19.970 and mid June 2013 since the beginning of the year 18.830 visitors had used our website.

On 6th February Justitia et Pax had invited Christian and charity associations for a meeting in Rome. Ordo socialis was represented there by our president Mr. C. Fetsch. The meeting was attended exclusively by German organizations (Renovabis, Miserior, Missio, Adveniat, Justitia et Pax Germany, KAS, BKU, KSZ and OS). Dealt with was the difference between the Catholic social teaching and the activity of Justitia et Pax as well as key-points and possible improvement of the work of Justitia et Pax.

Our Scientific Council has grown by two members: Prof. Dr. Joseph Kaboski Chicago/USA <http://economics.nd.edu/the-faculty/joseph-kaboski/> and Dr. Camillus Kassala Dar es Salaam/Tanzania.

Probably in August the report on the in November 2012 hold international conference "Business order and social justice in times of globalization" will be published within the book-collection of the Konrad-Adenauer-Stiftung in English and German. We shall inform you in the column "News" of our website.

Our annual members meeting is again planned for November. A separate invitation will be forwarded to you in time.
